Adventure Summary

Venture-Captain Arvin asked you to investigate the chaos originating from Stellar Sweets, a candy factory in Drifter's End, and put an end to it before the factory is shut down for good. Once inside, you free a very important person, Jenpuh Taysiq, from a chocolate monstrosity. They told you about rival chocolatiers, Kolale and Taanu, and how their efforts to unlock Stellar Sweets secret recipes is causing all the chaos.

You helped Kolale and Taanu and you ☐ did or ☐ did not get them to reconcile. You created the perfect candy, Dream Beans, and entered Siwiti's vault of secret recipes. You ☐ kept the recipes, or gave them to ☐ Jenpuh, ☐ Kolale and Taanu, ☐ Kolale, or ☐ Taanu.

The caramel cannon shoots globs of sticky caramel. When you Area Fire this weapon, instead of dealing damage, you create difficult terrain in the affected area that lasts for 2 rounds. If you're trained with this weapon, creatures in the area that fail their Reflex saves treat the area as greater difficult terrain (and become immobilized on a critical failure). Creatures can attempt to Escape against your class DC to remove the immobilized condition. If you have the primary target class feature, you can attempt to Grapple your primary target instead of Strike (with a –2 circumstance penalty, as normal for the ranged grapple trait).
